Spur Track Repair Will Cost $26,000

The Seaboard Railroad estimates that it will cost $26,000 to put a spur track serving International Airport back in operation. The estimate includes replacement of cross ties, rebuilding a bridge and removal of a second bridge.

The commission decided to take a closer look at the rebuilding program in an effort to determine if it could be done for less money. At this time, the commission said, it has only need for limited use of the spur track.

Mrs. Sadie Barwick returned to Miami Sunday after spending a week with relatives in Pahokee and Canal Point.

Ceremony Is Quite Impressive As The Baptists Install

The Canal Point Baptist Church installed their Church Officers for the year 1963-64 in a most impressive service led by the Pastor October 13, 1963 in the evening service.

As the Church entered into complete darkness the Master's Words "I am The Light of The World" were heard and a large candle centered in front of a picture of Christ was lit. Then Misses Patricia Stewart and Gloria Strayer sang "Let the Lower Lights be Burning." From this one candle the Pastor then lighted his candle and "Ye are The Light of The World" sounded forth. Then from the Pastor's candle the general church officers each lit a smaller candle, at the same time receiving a charge from the Pastor to be zealous in their work through the coming year.

In turn J. G. Weeks the Sunday School Supt., stood behind a podium from which a streamer led toward the picture of Christ, also lighting his candle from that placed on the podium. Each of the seven Department Superintendents in turn received the light from Mr. Weeks and in turn shared their light with the various forty workers of their respective departments.

Training Union Director Charles Brown came next to receive light for his department, standing behind another podium also attached.

Dr. William H. Jernigan has just opened his new veterinary office, the Sebring Animal Hospital, according to word received here, this week. Dr. Jernigan, a native of Canal Point and the son of Mr. and Mrs. W. P. Dr. Jernigan is a graduate of Pahokee High School and the University of Florida, Class of 1953, with a BS degree in Agriculture. He served for three years as a pilot with the US Air Force. He was assistant county agent in Marion County at Ocala at one time. And he and his family lived at Sebring for several years while he was associated with his father-in-law, L. H. He is married to the former Marjorie Alsmeyer, and they have two children, Larry, 7, and Barbara Jean, 5. Mrs. Jernigan is a member of the faculty of Woodlawn Elementary School at Sebring.

Junk Car Lot Is Leased By County

Grady Willis was voted a lease by the County Commission this week, allowing Willis the use of county lands west of the turnpike as a dumping grounds for abandoned autos.

Willis agreed that he would pick up all abandoned cars in the unincorporated areas as instructed by the zoning department in return for use of the land. The old cars are scheduled for salvage.

The commission for some time has been seeking an effective measure for hiding highway right of way of old abandoned cars which are often a blight on the scenery.

Public Hearing On Foreign Scale Will Be Of Interest Here

Secretary of Labor-W. Willard Wirtz announced today that a public hearing will be held in Miami, Florida, on November 5, 1963, to consider the possible "adverse effect" of the employment of foreign agricultural workers on the wages and working conditions of domestic farm workers in Florida.

Following a previous hearing in November 1962, a determination was made on July 1, 1963, that the employment of foreign agricultural workers at a rate of less than 95 cents an hour would adversely affect the wages and working conditions of domestic farm workers similarly employed. On October 3, Secretary Wirtz ordered that determination held in abeyance pending this hearing and re-examination.

Since the July 1 determination, additional facts bearing upon the impact of the 95 cent rate upon the operations of growers of some crops have been brought to the Secretary's attention. Growers have contended that the determination should give special consideration to these factors.

Garden Club Hears Kyle Scott Talk

Kyle Scott, assistant principal of Pahokee High School, presented the program at the October meeting of the Pahokee Garden Club held in the lounge of the new Everglades Federal Savings and Loan Association Building, Tuesday morning, with the president, Mrs. Jess Elliott, presiding.

The awards are based on the number of chicks raised; quality of the record books, and quality of the exhibit. Raleigh Griffith, assistant county agent, acts as advisor.

Sweet Corn Stays Fresh Longer Without Shank

GAINESVILLE—A researcher with the Agricultural Experiment Stations has found that sweet corn on the cob—packed and shipped without the shank—stay fresh longer.

Besides keeping the corn fresher, removal of the shank will reduce shipping costs, resulting in savings to consumers.

Horticulturist R. K. Showalter, with the AES Food Technology and Nutrition Department, University of Florida, identifies the "shank" as the six inches or more remaining on the stalk when the ear is pulled.

Studies were made at the Everglades station, Belle Glade, in cooperation with sweet corn growers and shippers.

Sweet corn ears with a long shank dehydrated much sooner than those with most of the shank removed, said Showalter.

"This is probably due to the utilization of moisture by the shank from the kernels," he said, adding that "the shank, actually robs moisture from the kernels to sustain itself."

This causes dented, unattractive kernels on the ear of corn.

Showalter found that at 70 degrees temperature sweet corn with the long shank dehydrated and became dented in appearance within three days, while corn without the shank was still not dented after five days.

In addition, the horticulturist found there is some dehydration when the corn silks and "flags" are left on the ear.

"Flags" are the portion of the corn husk which extends beyond the end of the ear.

Sweet corn with one inch of shank left on the ear was observed to dehydrate at a much slower rate than that with a long shank but at a much faster rate than corn without a shank.

Since many packers now use crates large enough to contain sweet corn ears with the long shank, Showalter thinks that by cutting off all but about an inch, shipping costs should decrease.

No costs studies along these lines have yet been made and the AES doesn't know if this is an important factor.

It is known that the wide crate requires additional space in shipping.

The significance of the scientist's findings is emphasized by the state's sweet corn production—a $17 million crop during the 1961-62 season, with a record 8.4 million crates (averaging 42 pounds each) shipped.

Once considered only a short season crop, sweet corn is already planted in Palm Beach and Dade County and harvest will continue through July in 18 different counties, including:

Alachua, Bradford, Broward, Dade, Duval, Hardee, Hillsborough, Lake, Lee, Marion, Martin, Orange, Palm Beach, Polk, St. Johns, Seminole, Sumter and Union.

Ione Patterson Circle Hears Mrs. Latham

"Grace McBride, Missionary Nurse" was the topic of the program presented by Mrs. J. D. Mrs. Walter Cross gave the devotionals.

Mrs. M. F. George gave the annual treasurer's report for the year.

Plans were discussed for cottage prayer meetings to be held in November preceding the revival.

Refreshments were served during the social hour by the hostess.

J. Frederick Parker Has Birthday Party

Here Is What Transpired At Monday's Meeting Of The Palm Beach County Commission

The green vegetation which has been choking Palm Beach County's lakes is beginning to look like another shade of green—complete with dollar signs.

Special chemicals, which cost $10 a gallon, have been used as a temporary means of ridding masses of weeds in Lake Osborne and Lake Ida. The commission noted this week that thousands of dollars are spent annually for this type stop-gap treatment and that the bill for periodic spraying is shaping up in alarming proportions.

The board did authorize a call for bids for another shipment of chemicals for use on the two lakes in hopes the treatment would see the recreational areas through the season.

Meantime a dredge which the board purchased has posed another problem for the commission, which this week cancelled the order for the dredge until such time as patent rights on the equipment can be negotiated. The dredge has originally been scheduled for use in the two lakes in an effort to deepen the water and eliminate weed growth which sprout in shallow areas.

Voters in precinct 104, who have been accustomed to casting their ballots at the McArthur Dairy building at Four Points, will do their balloting at the Mounts Building in the future.

The change in polling place was approved Monday by the County Commission at the request of the county supervisor of registration.

A request from the supervisor's office for funds to purchase precinct maps did not get the same response from the board. Louis Morrel, deputy supervisor, said the office is swamped with requests for precinct maps which could be purchased for $1 each.

The board decided to table the request until the county engineer.

zoning director and the industrial information office had an opportunity to study the matter and perhaps add other phases of county operation on the same set of maps.

Engineer George Frost cautioned that map information should be carefully screened since many phases of county operation change as frequently as every 30 days. These changes, he said, would make the map outdated before it came off the presses.

How to speak out for freedom today

Free men have never gone in much for silence. Even before the first thirteen States became United States, men were speaking for freedom loud and clear.

Today Americans speak out for freedom many ways—in Congress, in local government, in neighborhood activities. Some speak out for freedom in other languages, in other lands. And millions of Americans speak out for freedom every time they buy U.S. Savings Bonds.

Every Savings Bond you buy is an investment in freedom. While you're saving money for your own family's future, you're helping Uncle Sam tend to the business of keeping men free today.

Perhaps you don't speak out for freedom in the same tone of voice when you buy a Bond as Patrick Henry did in his famous speech. But you speak every bit as surely. And every bit as proudly.

Why not speak out for freedom now? Buy Bonds at the bank or on the Payroll Savings Plan where you work.

Keep freedom in your future with

Favorable Vote Is Needed For College Buildings

FORT LAUDERDALE—Thomas F. Fleming, Jr., Chairman of the Citizens for Florida's Future, announced this week the complete organization of all 67 counties in the CFF drive to get out the vote in favor of the College Building Amendment.

"Every county now has a hard working chairman," Fleming said, "and the support and endorsements that this campaign to rescue our colleges has gained grows daily."

The amendment to the State Constitution authorizes the issuance of bonds for construction of new facilities at the state's universities and junior colleges. The long-term, low-interest bonds would be paid off with revenue derived from the utilities gross receipts tax currently levied throughout the state, and would not raise the current level of state taxes.

Florida's 1963 Legislature, by more than a three-fourths vote of both houses, agreed to place the amendment No. 2, entitled "Constitutional Amendment to Article XII," and is popularly known as the College Building Amendment.

Features of the 1963 bond issue proposal include the following:

—A ceiling of $75 million on the amount of bonds which may be issued before July 1, 1965, and a limit of $50 million for any biennium thereafter, subject to review by the Legislature.

—Earmarking of the existing utilities tax to retire the bonds, instead of directly increasing taxes for that purpose.

—A limit of 4.5 per cent on interest rates for the bonds.

—A requirement that the bonds be sold through public bidding.

—A review of all bonds to be issued by the State Bond Review Board to determine their fiscal soundness.

—A provision that every project to be financed under the bond program have the approval of three-fifths of the Legislature.

—A provision for the State Board of Administration to serve as fiscal advisor for the bond issue, saving the state about $1 million in fees.

The Legislature authorized building projects totaling $45 million at the state's five universities and $30 million in the 29-school junior college network if the bond issue plan is approved. Also included in these totals are funds for planning of new state colleges in the Pensacola and East Central Florida areas, an extension of the University of Florida College of Engineering and planning for a future addition to the university network.

About half the money would be used for construction of science facilities, while the remaining half would provide dormitories and general use classrooms.

Inclusion of some vocational technical school building projects in the bond issue of future bienniums would be contingent upon a State Board of Education study of needs in this area.

The Legislature's decision to put Florida's higher education needs before the people was made under the shadow of census predictions that the state's college-age population would increase 96 per cent

RESOLUTION

The Pahokee's Woman's Club has passed the following resolution with regard to Bible reading and prayer in our public schools.

As wives, mothers and as organized club women of the United States of America, we feel Bible reading and prayer deserves our unified support. We feel that it is important that you consider bringing the following resolution before the Public.

RESOLUTION

WHEREAS we consider the recent Supreme Court decision on Bible reading and prayer in the public schools a dangerous to the best interest of our school system and our American way of Life, and

WHEREAS we feel the first amendment was not intended by our forefathers as a means of outlawing God, but rather had the purpose of preventing one religion from dominating all others on a national scale, and

WHEREAS we can see that this decision can readily become instrumental in excluding God from the spiritual realities from our Armed Services, Congress, our courts, our coinage, and certain national holidays, as well as other areas of American life.

BE IT THEREFORE RESOLVED: That the Pahokee Woman's Club wish it known that it is our earnest desire to support a constitutional amendment to keep Bible reading and prayer in our public schools.

Resolution Chairman
Pahokee Woman's Club
